

This Just In...

By Patriot Staff

Popular

- Lumber Liquidators coming to Hyannis
- Obituaries 1-29-10
- Town boards need you
- Real Estate Transactions 01-29-10
- This Just In...1-29-10
- United in their artful response to breast cancer
- WB drive to stop stoplights
- GAUVIN: Great voter turnout here helps do-nothing
- New proposal for school puts bids in doubt
- OKH denies OK for turbine

Latest Additions

- Real Estate Transactions 01-29-10
- New proposal for school puts bids in doubt
- Clearing the decks on Yarmouth Road
- OKH denies OK for turbine
- WB drive to stop stoplights
- Hansens set for new adventure
- This Just In...1-29-10
- Town boards need you
- Alum for Mystic Lake a step away
- Help decide development priorities

Jun 05 2009

This Just In...6-5-09

Popular Current News

- Obituaries 1-29-10
- Town boards need you
- This Just In...1-29-10
- United in their artful response to breast cancer
- WB drive to stop stoplights
- New proposal for school puts bids in doubt
- OKH denies OK for turbine
- Patti Page, who sang of Cape Cod, to return
- Hansens set for new adventure
- Clearing the decks on Yarmouth Road

Written by Patriot Staff

Due to a reporting error, an item in last week's town notes gave an incorrect location for a proposed housing development in Centerville. It would be at 70 Stage Coach Road, not 70 Old Stage Road.... For a couple of months this summer (June 23 to Labor Day), there'll be two daily papers on the Cape (just Tuesdays through Saturdays). The newcomer will be the Cape Cod Day, published by GateHouse Media (owners of The Register and The Cape Codder, among many others), whose slogan, so we hear, will be, "Have a Cape Cod Day!" Preparing to do battle, the Cape Cod Times ran a banner headline on its page A2 last Friday: "have a GREAT day!" The page offered advice we assume was intended for hens looking for a tan: "It is a large beach with nice, soft sand for those who love to lay in the sun all day long." We had to lie down after reading that.... The Isaac Davis House on Route 6A in Barnstable is the subject of Yankee magazine's popular "House for Sale" column. The May/June issue notes the presence of "foundation stones in the cellar that date back to the original fort house of 1643...." Owners Clyde and Ellie Claus live with their four Hungarian Vizslas in the house built by one of Barnstable's early tax collectors.... Bourne's scallop festival is a hardy perennial, and now there's an effort in the Upper Cape town to give the mighty quahog its due. The Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce and the Quahog Republic Waterfront Eatery on Mashnee Island will host the first Cape Cod Quahog Day June 21 at 2 p.m. It's expected that the "official quahog" will reveal "how many weeks of Cape Cod beach weather lie ahead" (we'll bet the prediction will extend through the shoulder season). Other events include a demonstration of Mashpee Wampanoag traditions and a competition for the titles of Ms. Quahog, Boss Hog, and Mister/Miss Littleneck. There's no admission fee, but it will cost you $48 to enjoy a clambake on the lawn at 6 p.m.; part of the proceeds will go to the National Marine Life Center in Bourne. Go to www.quahogday.com for more.... The Arts Foundation of Cape Cod has two ways to get involved with the arts on Cape Cod. It's put out its annual call for volunteers to help at the Aug. 2 TD Banknorth Pops by the Sea Concert in Hyannis (details at www.artsfoundation.org, or call 508-362-0066), and also has issued its 2009 Passport to the Arts. That booklet represents a 50 percent discount on admission to the programs of 45 cultural organizations. See the Web site for details.... Census sense: The Better Business Bureau has sent out an alert regarding contacts by U.S. Census workers, who are making the rounds to verify addresses. The organization says legitimate Census workers will have a badge, a handheld device, a Census Bureau canvas bag, and a confidentiality notice, and recommends asking to see ID and the badge before answering questions. The Census Bureau is not asking for Social Security numbers, credit card or banking information. Finally, BBB advises that Census workers may call or contact you by mail, but will not use e-mail – so don't respond to same.... Here's a clutch of affordable housing opportunities. On June 6 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Housing Assistance Corporation is holding an open house at Residences at Canal Bluffs in Bourne on Harmony Hill Road. Twenty-six two-bedroom rental apartments and one three-bedroom are being offered in a lottery. Applications are due June 12. Call 508-778-7535, ext 1, or go to www.canalbluffs.com. On June 13, an information session will be held at

BOB JONES PHOTO

SPRUCING UP – People who attended last month's Memorial Day service at the JFK Memorial in Hyannis marveled at the brightness of the medallions on each face of the monument. Give credit to Davy Lewis, pictured here, and his dad, local sculptor David Lewis.