Valery Thurber, featured artist - Guyer Art Barn

Artist Valery Thurber is featured at Guyer Art Barn, 250 South Street Hyannis this January. Her exhibit will be on display January 2nd through January 30th, 2010. All are invited to enjoy art, refreshments and live jazz music at the opening reception on Friday, January 8th from 6 to 8PM. An up and coming contemporary painter, Valery's works have been featured regionally. The works on display will include oils, woodcut prints, monotypes, and mixed-media. Her subject matter includes the figure and simple still-life objects. Valery manipulates color and texture to take the imagery beyond representation towards an expressive style. Guyer Art Barn is a showcase for emerging and established local artists. It is a community art space, a working artist studio and professional artist gallery supporting and promoting the arts. Located at 250 South Street Hyannis in Hyannis, it sits on the campus of town owned properties that make up the Shirley Blair Flynn Center for Creative Arts. FIRST THINGS FIRST: A Regional Exhibition Presented by the Arts Foundation of Cape Cod The Arts Foundation of Cape Cod will present a major regional art exhibit entitled FIRST THINGS FIRST, at the Cotuit Center for the Arts, 4404 Falmouth Rd, Cotuit, from January 9 to February 6, 2010, Monday – Saturday, 10:00 am - 5:00 pm. The show will feature over 50 established living Cape Cod artists who have created art that explores those things that are most important to them. To engage young viewers, art work will be displayed at a children's eye level of 4 feet throughout the exhibit. In addition, a mini art library will be made available to visitors, and a series of child-friendly events will be scheduled over the course of the month. School groups are welcomed to the exhibit for free and will be given docent-led tours and art instruction customized to the age of the children. FIRST THINGS FIRST is presented thanks to the generous sponsorship of the Eastern Bank Charitable Foundation, and support from the Donald C. McGraw Foundation and Cape Cod Melody Tent. The exhibit is free and open to the public. For complete details or to schedule school tours call the AFCC at 508-362-0066 or visit them online at www.artsfoundation.org.
